

GRIZZHACKS

SPONSORSHIP

PROSPECTUS 2019

What is GrizzHacks?

GrizzHacks is Oakland University's annual student-run hackathon that will take place in late September/mid-October of 2019. More than 300 students from across the mid-west will gather in the OU Engineering Center on campus in Auburn Hills, MI to create software or hardware projects including websites, mobile apps, hardware projects, and much more.

What is a "Hackathon"?

A hackathon is a 24 hour long programming competition, where attendees "hack" things together. Over the course of a weekend, students collaborate to build innovative software/hardware projects from the ground up.

Why sponsor a Hackathon?

Why sponsor GrizzHacks? By partnering with GrizzHacks as a sponsor, you will be able to:

- Recruit from a pool of talented computer science and engineering students during the event
- Gain access to attendee resumes, emails, GitHubs, and LinkedIn profiles
- Showcase your products and services to developers
- Advertise your brand with your logo on the GrizzHacks website, our social media, fliers, banners, and swag

Why GrizzHacks?

GrizzHacks is the largest hackathon in the metro-Detroit area. In September 2018, nearly 300 students participated in the third installment of GrizzHacks. It was a huge success, garnering attention from local media such as the Detroit Auto Scene, the Oakland Post, and even a feature in the Microsoft Blog. Attendees travel from around North America, but a majority are drawn from Oakland's esteemed School of Engineering and Computer Science.

Whether your organization is focused on recruiting, promoting your brand, receiving feedback on your products and services, or all of the above, GrizzHacks will help you meet your goals.

To become a sponsor, reach out to the team of student organizers at team@grizzhacks.com to schedule a call to discuss your involvement.
